INTERNATIONAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Student Handbook

We want our students to enjoy their student life and be enriched by sharing their life with a multicultural student community. We thank God for the two dorms that provide the housing for our students with all the facilities for a comfortable community life. The ITS Student Body Association provides the opportunity to the students to worship together and get involved in various programs and activities to learn and to grow in different dimensions of their life.

Our students are guided to develop themselves in their spiritual, personal, emotional, and ministry dimensions. We help them to get connected with the local churches and be involved under the mentorship of the pastor. The Personal Development Plan guides them through this process of development.

This Student Handbook provides the information on all these features of student life at International Theological Seminary.

Student Government

Student Government Constitution and By-laws

Organization

ITS students are organized into an association called ITS Student Body, which is structured as follows: the Student Body Council and the Student Body Executive Committee. Its purposes are:

Article 4 Student Grievances

Student Grievances

There are two types of student grievances:

1. Academic grievances

Students who have an academic complaint are encouraged to contact the instructor directly to resolve the complaint. If this contact does not resolve the academic complaint, the student is encouraged to make an appointment with the Vice-President for Academic Affairs so that the complaint may be officially registered, and solutions discussed.

Students who have serious grievances should submit his/her complaint in writing to the Vice-President for Academic Affairs. The Administrative Council (President, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, Vice-President for Students' Life and Vice-President for Operations and Finance) shall discuss and act on the matter in its next available meeting. A written response will be developed and forwarded to the student within ten days after the meeting. The decision of Administrative Council is final.

Issues regarding questions and disputes about grades must be finalized within two weeks of the issuance of the grades.

2. Non-academic grievances

a. Among students.

Whenever a grievance among students arises, a 3-fold process will be utilized:

Students are expected to settle the grievance among themselves.

If the grievance among the students is not resolved among themselves, the grievance is to be taken and addressed by the members of the Student Executive Committee (EXCO). After making their decision, they will address the involved students.

If the student grievance is still not resolved, the grievance will be taken to the Vice-President for Student Life who will take the steps to resolve the grievance. If necessary, the Vice-President for Student Life will take it to the Administrative Council for further discussion and decision.

b. With staff and/or faculty.

Whenever the student has a grievance with a staff and/or faculty member, the student should put the grievance in writing and present it to the Vice-President for Student Life. He/she will subsequently take the letter of grievance to the Administrative Council which will respond to the grievance by communicating with both the staff and/or faculty member and the student(s) in an appropriate manner to resolve the grievance.

INTERNATIONAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN

RATIONALE: As a student at ITS, we want you to be not only a learner in the classroom but also within the context of life in general and ministry in particular. It is critical for you to experience an ongoing integration between your academic studies and the rest of your student life including involvement in a local church. In order for this integration to occur, it is important for you to attend and participate in the life of a local church.

We want you to develop in some significant areas of your life. To do so, we want you to write goals that will be important for your developmental growth in the various dimensions of your life—personal, spiritual, emotional, and ministry leadership skills. This holistic approach will contribute to your overall growth as a follower of Jesus Christ. This holistic development can best occur in the classroom, in community life at ITS, and in a local church.

REQUIREMENT: Since personal developmental growth is so critical for our ministry, students are required to complete the Personal Development Plan forms and meet with the Vice- President of Student Life for counsel and direction. Every student is expected to work on the Personal Development Plan during the academic year. Students will meet with the VP for Student Life at the end of the academic year for discussion and evaluation. The student's continuation of studies, renewal of scholarships, and the eligibility for graduation depend on a satisfactory completion of the Personal Development Plan.

PROCESS: There are specific phases to the fulfillment of your personal development goals:

- 1) Establish yourself with a church within 4 weeks (by the end of September).
 - For new students, we do not expect you to be involved in a specific ministry in a church in the first quarter. However, it is very important to make it known to the church leadership (pastor, elders) that you need to be involved in ministry while at ITS. Your 1st Quarter goals must demonstrate how you will take steps toward ministry participation in the church.
 - For returning students, we expect you to identify your ministry (it may be what you have previously done in the church, or it may be a new ministry) and establish ministry leadership goals within the first quarter.
 - Our Church and Community Engagement Directors, Dr. Purdy and Rev. Shouming can help you in this process.

- 2) Sign the Covenant Document with the pastor of the church you have decided to be involved and start functioning under his mentorship for following the Personal Development Plan.

2) Complete the Personal Development Plan in order to establish significant goals for the school year by the September 30th. By the end of the school year, we want to see how you have developed in significant areas. In order to establish your goals, they must be:

- Realistic. Your goals must be reasonable and at the same time the goals must “stretch” so there is development in your life. In other words, do not establish goals that do not help you to develop as a person.
- Measurable. Your goals must not be vague (e.g. “My goal is to grow closer to God”). Instead, the goals must be either quantitative (e.g. “I will exercise 3 times per week by doing....”) or specific (e.g. “I will work on the ministry skill as a team player by focusing on 3 key aspects of teamwork”)

3) Meet with the VP of Student Life during the first week of October to discuss your Personal Development Plan. In the case of your inability to meet in person, send a copy of your plan to the VP of Student Life. It is possible you may have to revise your goals so that they are satisfactory for your growth as a Christian leader.

4) Meet with the VP of Student Life at the end of each quarter to evaluate your progress with your Personal Development Plan.

International Theological Seminary (ITS) Internship Covenant

As stated in the Personal Development plan, a student at ITS is not only to be a learner in the classroom, but also within the context of life and ministry. We believe it is important for students to experience an ongoing integration between academic studies and the rest of student life, including involvement in a local church. For this integration to occur, we expect that a student attend and participate in the life of a local church and thereby get into a Covenant Relationship with the Pastor of the church.

In addition to this Covenant Relationship with a Pastor/Mentor and Congregation, students are required to complete the Personal Development Plan forms and meet with the Vice- President of Student Life for counsel and direction. Students will meet with the VP for Student Life at the end of the academic year for discussion and evaluation. The student's continuation of studies, renewal of scholarships, and the eligibility for graduation depend on a satisfactory completion of the Personal Development Plan and an Internship opportunity.

COVENANT:

The student is to establish a relationship with a church within 4 weeks of the Fall quarter (by the end of September).

- For new students, we do not expect you to be involved in a specific ministry in a church in the first quarter. However, it is very important to make it known to the church leadership (pastor, elders) that you need to be involved in ministry while at ITS. Your 1st Quarter goals of the Personal Development Plan must demonstrate how you will take steps toward ministry participation in the church.
- For returning students, we expect you to identify your ministry (it may be what you have previously done in the church, or it may be a new ministry) and establish ministry leadership goals within the first quarter.

INTERNSHIP EXPECTATIONS

- 1) A supervisory role is established by a pastor (mentor) to the student.
- 2) Meetings are scheduled to discuss ministry and do reflection (the frequency of these meetings will be determined by the pastor/student, but they are not to be less frequent than a quarterly basis. Weekly meetings are preferred). Discussion and reflection on spiritual development/formation should be a part of these discussions.
- 3) Opportunities are provided for the student to participate in ministry leadership and to learn all aspects of the church (preaching, meetings, administration, counseling, etc.).
- 4) The Personal Development Plan should be the focus of the Internship relationship.

Covenant

I, Pastor of _____ (congregation) agree to be a mentor to a student of the International Theological Seminary. I plan on meeting with the student and helping him/her discover his/her spiritual formation and growth as a Christian leader.

I, a student of the International Theological Seminary, agree to be supervised by the above pastor and participate in the life of the pastor's congregation. I plan on taking advantage of opportunities presented to me by my supervisor and congregation as I grow in my ministry experience.

By mutually consenting to this covenant, we (Supervisor and Student) hope to be enriched in our lives and ministries by the Holy Spirit's direction and supervision. We agree to pray for one another and to minister together in a spirit of Christian love.

Policy on Sexual Harassment/Sexual Assault

ITS proclaims the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, the Bible, which calls those who profess Christianity to live holy lives. This is evident in express statements God has given. (Leviticus 19:1; Psalm 51:10-12; 1 Corinthians 6:18-20; Ephesians 5:3)

In such a context, ITS is committed to creating an atmosphere which is free from harassment in general and sexual harassment and assault in particular.

ITS defines sexual harassment and sexual assault as inappropriate sexual advances, such as requests for favors or other conduct that is sexual in nature whether verbal or physical. Any attempt to coerce a person into sexual relations, to subject anyone to unwarranted sexual attention, any covert or overt threat of punishment for a refusal to yield or reward for so doing, direct propositions, physical contact, conduct or speech which could bring discomfort and humiliation shall be deemed a violation of this policy.

Every member of the ITS community should be aware that the seminary is strongly opposed to sexual harassment and that such behavior is prohibited both by seminary policy and by law (cf. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, 1964, 42 U.S.C. Sections 20000e et seq. (1992); Title IX of the Educational Amendments, 1972, 20 U.S.C. Sections 1681 et seq. (1990)). Sexual harassment is a varied to learning in the classroom and to productivity in the workplace. It is the intention of ITS to take whatever action may be needed to prevent, correct and, if necessary, discipline behavior which violates this policy. Faculty, administrators, and supervisors have the responsibility for participation in the creation of a campus environment free from sexual harassment, an environment that bears joyful witness to the God given worth of all persons.

Any student, staff, or faculty member who believes he/she is being sexually harassed is free to report to the Administrative Council. Upon receipt of a complaint or grievance, the VP for Academic Affairs shall appoint a committee of no less than 3 to investigate and report to the faculty for action. In the event the faculty finds that the situation is beyond its ability to deal with, it must be reported to the Board for discussion and action. Parties involved are entitled to a proper hearing. All disciplinary action taken shall follow the normal procedures outlined in Matthew 18:15-22.

All records of such inquiry and investigation must be maintained in writing. Confidentially and the corrective and disciplinary procedure shall be maintained. If the violation is more serious, the seminary will consult legal counsel for the necessary steps to insure the adequate resolution of the violation.

Guidelines on the Use of Media and Technology

International Theological Seminary is committed to the advancement of information technology to facilitate learning and enhancement of ministry. These guidelines are created to maximize use of available technology and maintain integrity as scholars and Christians.

The guidelines cover the following area:

Email

Students, faculty and staff shall be issued ITS email address @itsla.edu and shall be the primary address in all official correspondences and internal communications.

The use of ITS email is highly encouraged to promote our institution and to avail of discounts in many commercial establishments and for personal correspondences. However, no one shall use the ITS email account for the purpose of creating accounts in inappropriate websites (online dating, gambling, etc.) and activities that are deemed illegal.

No person shall access any other person's e-mail or data without permission.

Students may opt to keep their ITS email address after graduation and shall file a request to the email administrator to this effect. ITS reserves the right to deactivate email accounts of terminated faculty and staff members and dropped-out students. Accounts that have been inactive for more than 180 days shall also be removed. Reinstatement of deactivated accounts shall require electronic or written request to the email administrator or IT Director. Availability of contents of reinstated accounts is not guaranteed.

Computers, Copiers and Printers

All registered students shall have access to library computers, copiers and printers when available. Copiers and printers may be used at reasonable cost. Users are required log their use of the computers. Priority shall be given to students who are researching or typing their papers. No software or application shall be installed without the approval of the IT Director or his representative.

Personal files may be saved in the student's ITS Drive but not in the computer disk drive. IT staff shall wipe computer data content on a regular basis and without prejudice as part of computer maintenance.

No bootlegged software shall be installed in any computer. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to use only legitimately purchased software or open source softwares. While ITS treats every student as responsible Christian leader, school internet shall be equipped with filters that block inappropriate sites. Visit to pornographic sites shall not be tolerated and shall meet corresponding disciplinary action.

Photocopying and printing of materials are subject to existing copyright laws. The person using the photocopying equipment or printer shall be liable for any infringement.

Internet and Social Media

Faculty, staff, and students are expected to maintain mature Christian character at all times. It is also expected that everyone to be above-reproach in their use of internet and social media. We maintain every person's freedom of speech. However, hateful posts, slanders, harassment, or any disparaging comments made in public are discouraged. Internal policies of ITS shall be discussed only in proper forum, not in social media. Faculty members shall maintain privacy and confidentiality of the students and shall not disclose or discuss about student grades or related matters in public or social
